

1. Scientists of the station are involved in research works on various crops, extension activities like training programmes, seminars, exhibition etc.
 2. The scientists act as members in multi disciplinary diagnostic team of Department of Agriculture.
 3. Soil nutrient analysis is being done for farmers at the station.
 4. There is production and supply of bio-control agents.
 5. Trainings on mushroom production is periodically conducted at the station. There is also production and supply of mushroom to the public.
 6. Dairy is maintained at the station from where milk is being supplied to the public.
 7. There is a sales counter at the station from where, various seedlings and organic inputs are being supplied to the public.
-